DCB Financial Corp Appoints Bart Johnson to the Board of Directors

LEWIS CENTER, OH -- DCB Financial Corp, (OTC Bulletin Board DCBF) announced the addition of Bart Johnson to the Board of Directors.

Johnson, 44, is the President of Agri Communicators Inc., a media company dedicated to the needs of Ohio's agricultural community. He is a life-long Delaware County resident and received his Bachelor of Science degree in Ag Economics from The Ohio State University. Bart and his wife, Sheryl, have four children and live in Concord Township. He is a part time farmer and active in the community by serving as a volunteer for youth sports within the Buckeye Valley School District as well as a Concord Township Trustee.

Johnson brings with him a long family association with The Bank. His father, G. Edwin Johnson, served as a director from 1993-2001.

Johnson will serve as a Class II director with a term ending in May 2010 and is expected to be named to the Director's loan committee.

"We are very fortunate to have Bart's agricultural experience and knowledge on the Board," noted DCB Financial Corp Chairman of the Board, Terry M. Kramer. "I had the pleasure of serving with Ed Johnson for a number of years. The Johnson name is highly respected in the agricultural community."
